

California Environmental Data Exchange Network (CEDEN) Workshop

March 16, 2015

1:30 pm

Coastal Hearing Room – Second Floor

Joe Serna Jr. – Cal/EPA Building

1001 I Street, Sacramento

CEDEN is the State Water Resources Control Board's (State Water Board) database for housing surface water quality related data. In order to better understand the needs of CEDEN users, State Water Board staff is holding a user group meeting to request feedback on the system.

The meeting will start with a brief overview of current CEDEN plans and projects. Then staff will ask for comments. While all constructive comments are welcome, staff is particularly interested in comments pertaining to the following:

- Simplifying the entry templates
- Allowing use of a simplified template for field measurements
- "Grading" data based on quality assurance/quality control metadata
- Data access and querying needs
- Required fields
- Key data sets

For more information on CEDEN, see <http://ceden.org/>.

Video broadcast of this meeting will be available at: <http://www.calepa.ca.gov/Broadcast/>. During the meeting, participants joining remotely can email comments to ceden@waterboards.ca.gov.
